Applicable Law

All of the abovementioned products are governed by the applicable laws of Malaysia, rulings of the Shariah Advisory Council of Bank Negara Malaysia, Terms and Conditions of Alliance Islamic Bank Berhad ("the Bank"), rulings of the Bank's Shariah Committee and banking regulations effective from the date of opening of the account or as amended, enacted or adopted thereafter. Any such change shall be effective upon notification to the depositor by advertisement, display of notice in the Bank's branches and websites or any other means that as may be determined.

Applicable Shariah Contracts

1. Qard

Qard refers to a contract of lending money by a customer (lender) to a Bank (borrower) where the Bank has an obligation to repay an equivalent replacement amount to the customer. The Bank has the right to utilise the money for its banking activities and is entitled to the benefits or revenues gained from the money that was borrowed.

For current and savings accounts, a qard contract is established when the customer (lender) transfers or deposits funds into an account with the Bank. Upon entering into the qard contract, the customer authorises the Bank (borrower) to deal with the whole or any part of the monies standing to the credit of their account in any banking business (including but not limited to financing or investment) which does not contradict with Shariah principles. Any profit generated by the Bank from the use of such funds shall belong to the Bank. The Bank may at its discretion provide a token of appreciation to the customer for maintaining funds with the Bank in the form of hibah (gift). The offer and acceptance of the qard contract for a current or savings account(s) product is completed when the account opening application form is signed by both the customer and the Bank.

For overdrawn accounts, a qard contract is established when the customer draws funds in excess of the available balance in the account. The Bank (lender) may exceptionally allow the account of the customer (borrower) to be temporarily overdrawn subject to repayment of the overdrawn amount to the Bank within a stipulated period. The customer shall ensure that funds temporarily advanced by the Bank to the customer on an exceptional basis with prior approval are not used for purposes that contravene Shariah principles.

2. Murabahah via Tawarruq (also known as Commodity Murabahah)

Murabahah refers to a sale and purchase of an asset where the acquisition cost and the mark-up are disclosed to the purchaser. A tawarruq consists of two sale and purchase contracts. The first involves the sales of an asset by a seller to a purchaser on a deferred basis. Subsequently, the purchaser of the first sale will sell the same asset to third party on a cash and spot basis.

Murabahah via Tawarruq involves the sale and purchase of an asset (Shariah compliant commodities) with disclosure on the cost of the asset and the profit rate.

The process flow is as follows:

- a) The customer ("Depositor") appoints the Bank as agent to purchase commodities from a supplier;
- b) The customer enters into a Murabahah contract with the Bank for the sale of commodities to the Bank on deferred payment terms ("Murabahah Contract");
- c) The Bank sells the commodities to a third party.

The amount deposited is returned to the customer with profit (if any) when the Murabahah Contract has matured or is terminated.

The sale and purchase of commodities (commodity trading) is carried out via a third party service provider appointed by the Bank (Bursa Malaysia Islamic Services Sdn. Bhd. or Eiger Trading Advisors Ltd.). The purchase and sale of commodities will be completed by the Bank within two (2) business days from the date of the deposit placement.

3. Wakalah (Applicable to current accounts and savings accounts based on Murabahah via Tawarruq, Alliance Term Deposit-i and Junior Smart Term Deposit-i)

Wakalah refers to the appointment of Bank as agent by the customer as principal to perform a particular task on matters that may be delegated with or without imposition of a fee.

For the purpose of Tawarruq in clause 2 above, the customer agrees to appoint the Bank as agent under a dual agency (dual wakalah) arrangement for the following purposes:

- a) to do and execute all acts with respect to the purchase of the commodities on a cash basis ("Purchase Transaction(s)") through purchase agreements, certificates and/or other instruments and to negotiate with the commodity trade service providers or suppliers on behalf of the customer in relation thereto; and
- b) to sell the commodities to the Bank on deferred payment terms at cost plus profit ("Murabahah Sale Price") on behalf of the customer and to do and execute all acts in relation thereto ("Sale Transaction(s)").

The abovementioned agency appointment shall remain valid for each subsequent placement/renewal made by the customer and shall only be terminated upon closure of the customer's account.

The Bank will act on behalf of the customer(s) as the customer's absolute and undisclosed agent for the purchase and sale of the commodities. The agency appointment will take effect when the customer has signed the account opening form or acknowledged acceptance via any other means at the time of account opening at the Bank's branch or on the Bank's digital platforms.

4. Hamish Jiddiyah (Applicable to current accounts and savings accounts based on Murabahah via Tawarruq)

Hamish jiddiyah is a security deposit placed by the Bank in the account of the customer on the last day of the month (profit payment date). It is an assurance that the Bank will purchase commodities from the customer after the Bank as agent has purchased commodities on behalf of the customer for sale to the Bank.

The security deposit is only applicable when there is an incremental Net Deposit Amount at the end of the day on the last day of the month and commodity trading can only take place on the next business day. Once the Bank has completed commodity trading, the security deposit will be offset against actual profit payable by the Bank.

The Bank may waive its right on the security deposit for specific circumstances such as closure of the account before the Bank performs commodity trading.

Below is the formula to derive the security deposit amount:

$$\frac{\text{Daily Net Deposit Amount} \times \text{Effective Profit Rate} \times \text{No. of days}}{\text{Actual No. of Days for the Year}^*}$$

*Note:

Daily Net Deposit Amount – Total amount deposited for the day less total amount withdrawn for the day.
Actual No. of Days for the Year - 365 days for a non-leap year and 366 days for a leap year.
