KEY RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH THE FUND

Please be advised that if an investor invests in units through an institutional unit trust scheme adviser which adopts the nominee system of ownership, the investor would not be considered to be a unit holder under the Fund's Deed as the investor's name will not appear in the register of unit holders. The investor may consequently not have all the rights ordinarily exercisable by a unit holder (for example, the right to call for a unit holders' meeting and to vote thereat).

Target Fund risk	The Fund is a feeder fund which invests a minimum of 90% of its NAV into the Target Fund at all times. All investment decisions on the Target Fund are left with the Target Fund's fund manager and we will have no control over the investment processes and decisions made by the Target Fund. As such, the Fund is exposed to the risk of its NAV declining when the Target Fund's net asset value declines.
Credit and default risk	Credit risk relates to the creditworthiness of the issuers of money market instruments and/or financial institutions where the Deposits are placed and their expected ability to make timely payment of interest and/or principal. Any adverse situations faced by the issuer of the money market instruments and/or financial institutions where the Deposits are placed may impact the value as well as liquidity of the money market instruments and/or Deposits. In the case of rated money market instruments and financial institutions, this may lead to a credit downgrade. Default risk relates to the risk that an issuer of money market instruments or a financial institution where the Deposits are placed either defaulting on payments or failing to make payments in a timely manner which will in turn adversely affect the value of the money market instruments and Deposits. This could adversely affect the NAV of the Fund.
Counterparty risk	The Fund may be exposed to counterparty risk associated with OTC derivatives as the Fund may enter into derivative contracts for hedging purposes. Counterparty risk is the risk of loss that arises from counterparties' failure to fulfil its obligation or decline in the counterparties' credit rating which may adversely impact the Fund's NAV.
Interest rate risk	Interest rate risk refers to the impact of interest rate changes on the valuation of money market instruments. When interest rates rise, money market instruments prices generally decline and this may lower the market value of the Fund's investment in money market instruments. The reverse may apply when interest rates fall. Meanwhile, money market instruments with longer maturities and lower coupon/interest rates are more sensitive to interest rate changes. In addition, the Fund's placement in Deposits will also be affected by interest rate changes. In the event of a decreasing interest rate environment, banks may offer Deposits with lower interest rates, effectively reducing the potential returns of Deposits. Interest rates offered by the financial institutions will fluctuate according to the Overnight Policy Rate ("OPR") determined by Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) and this has direct correlation with the Fund's investment in Deposits.
Currency risk	Currency risk at the Fund level The Fund may invest up to 10% of its NAV in liquid assets. Under adverse conditions, the Fund may hold up to 100% of its NAV in liquid assets as a temporary defensive strategy. These investments may be denominated in currencies other than the Base Currency. As a result, any fluctuations in the exchange rate between the Base Currency and the currencies in which the investments are denominated may have an impact on the value of these investments. Investors should be aware that if the currencies in which the investments are denominated depreciate against the Base Currency, this will have an adverse effect on the NAV of the Fund in the Base Currency and vice versa. Currency risk at the Class level Any fluctuation in the exchange rates between the Base Currency and the currency denomination of the respective Class(es) which are different from the Base Currency may also have an impact on the value of investor's holdings. Investors of the hedged Class(es) will be subject to minimal currency risk as we will as much as practicable mitigate this risk by hedging the currency denomination of the hedged

	Class(es) against the Base Currency of the Fund, i.e. USD. Investors should note that this hedging may not fully eliminate the currency risk on the hedged Class(es). Investors in the USD Class will not be subject to currency risk at the Class level as it is denominated in the same currency as the Base Currency of the Fund.
Risk of fund suspension	The Fund will be suspended immediately if the Target Fund is suspended to ensure that the Fund has a fair valuation as the Target Fund forms a material portion of the Fund's assets. The Fund may also be suspended under exceptional circumstances where the market value or fair value of a material portion of the Fund's assets cannot be determined as disclosed in Section 4.10 of the Prospectus. Prior to triggering a suspension, we seek to manage this by allowing the Fund to hold up to 10% of its NAV in liquid assets which seeks to allow the Fund to have a sufficient buffer to meet the Unit Holders' redemption request. We also conduct fund flow analysis to ensure that the Fund is holding sufficient cash to meet redemption requests. Suspension due to these exceptional circumstances will only be triggered as a last resort and is in the best interest of Unit Holders to do so. In the event of a suspension, the Fund will not be able to accept any transactions and Unit Holders will not be able to make repurchase requests and will need to stay invested in the Fund until the suspension is lifted.
Risk of deferment on redemption of the Target Fund	As the Fund will be investing a minimum of 90% of its NAV in the Target Fund, the redemption proceeds of the Fund are subject to the redemption policy of the Target Fund. If on any valuation date redemption requests relate to more than 10% of the shares in issue in respect of the Target Fund, the Management Company may declare that part or all of such shares for redemption will be deferred on a pro rata basis for a period that the Management Company considers to be in the best interests of the Target Fund and/or the Management Company may defer any redemption request which exceeds 10% of the shares in issue in respect of the Target Fund. Under such circumstances, we will apply such deferment proportionately to all Unit Holders who have validly requested redemption on such dealing day. If Unit Holders' redemption requests received by us on any Business Day which exceeds the proportionate redemption limit accorded to the Fund may not be accepted and processed on the same day. In this event, Unit Holders' redemption request shall be carried forward as the Fund's redemption of shares from the Target Fund are being carried forward. The Fund's unredeemed shares will then be carried forward until the total number of shares to be redeemed falls within such limit set by the Management Company on a dealing day i.e. the processing date.
Risk of compulsory redemption of the Target Fund	As the Fund will be investing a minimum of 90% of its NAV in the Target Fund, any event of compulsory redemption occurred on the Target Fund will have an impact to the Fund. In the event that the Target Fund exercises a compulsory redemption of the shares held by the Fund, the Fund will no longer be invested in the Target Fund and will therefore not be able to meet its asset allocation and investment objective.

KEY RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH THE TARGET FUND

Concentration risk	The Target Fund invests a large portion of its assets in a limited number of industries, sectors, or issuers, or within a limited geographical area, it can be more risky than a fund that invests more broadly. Focusing on any company, industry, sector, country, region, type of stock, type of economy, etc. makes the Target Fund more sensitive to the factors that determine market value for the area of focus. These factors may include economic, financial or market conditions as well as social, political, economic, environmental, or other conditions. The result can be both higher volatility and a greater risk of loss.
Counterparty and collateral risk	Any entity with which the Target Fund does business, including the depository, could become unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the Target Fund. Agreements with counterparties, such as through the use of securities lending, can involve liquidity risk and operational risk, either of which could cause losses and could limit the Target Fund's ability to meet redemption requests, meet other payment obligations or invest the assets in question. Under the circumstances mentioned in Section 1.18.3 Specific Risks related to the Target Fund of the Prospectus, The Target Fund could lose some or all of its money, or could experience delays in getting back securities or cash that are held by the counterparty (which could also cause losses) and/or the value of collateral might not cover the full value of a transaction, or any fees or returns owed to the Target Fund.

Currency risk	The Target Fund holds assets that are denominated in currencies other than the base currency, any changes in currency exchange rates could reduce investment gains or income, or increase investment losses, in some cases significantly. Exchange rates can change rapidly and unpredictably, and it may be difficult for the Target Fund to unwind its exposure to a given currency in time to avoid losses. Changes in exchange rates can be influenced by such factors as export-import balances, economic and political trends, governmental intervention, and investor speculation. In addition, shareholders may experience currency risk if the currency in which they subscribe or redeem is different to the base currency of the Target Fund. Changes in currency exchange rates between the base currency and the share class currency can reduce investment gains or income, or increase investment losses, in some cases significantly.
Derivatives risk	The value of derivatives can be volatile. Small movements in the value of an underlying asset can create large changes in the value of a derivative and expose the Target Fund to losses that could be greater than the cost of the derivative itself.
Emerging markets risk	Emerging markets are less established, and more volatile, than developed markets. They involve higher risks, particularly market, credit, illiquid security, legal, custody, valuation, and currency risks, and are more likely to experience risks that in developed markets are associated with unusual market conditions.
Equities risk	Equities can lose value rapidly, and typically involve higher (often significantly higher) market risks than bonds or money market instruments. If a company goes through bankruptcy or a similar financial restructuring, its equities may lose most or all of their value.
Hedging risk	Any attempts to reduce or eliminate certain risks may not work as intended, and to the extent that they do work, they will generally eliminate potentials for gain along with risks of loss.
Liquidity risk	Any security could temporarily become hard to value or to sell at a desired time and price. Liquidity risk could affect the Target Fund's value and its ability to pay redemption proceeds or to repay, for example, repurchase agreement proceeds by the agreed deadline.
Market risk	Prices and yields of many securities can change frequently — sometimes with significant volatility — and can fall, based on a wide variety of factors. The effects of market risk can be immediate or gradual, short-term or long-term, narrow or broad.
Operational risk	In any country, but especially in emerging markets, the Target Fund could suffer losses due to errors, service disruptions or other failures, as well as fraud, corruption, cyber crime, instability, terrorism or other irregular events. Operational risks may subject the Target Fund to errors affecting valuation, pricing, accounting, tax reporting, financial reporting, custody and trading, among other things. Operational risks may go undetected for long periods of time, and even if they are detected it may prove impractical to recover prompt or adequate compensation from those responsible.
Sustainable investing risk	To the extent the Target Fund weighs ESG or sustainability criteria in choosing investments, it may underperform the market or other funds that invest in similar assets but do not apply sustainability criteria. While the Target Fund, in selecting investments, may use a proprietary ESG scoring process that is based partially on third party data, such data may be incomplete or inaccurate. In making its proxy voting decisions consistent with ESG criteria, exclusionary criteria, the Target Fund may not always be consistent with maximising an issuer's short-term performance.

Note: The abovementioned risks which investors should consider before investing into the Fund should not be considered to be an exhaustive list. Investors should be aware that investments in the Fund may be exposed to other unforeseeable risks from time to time. As the Fund will be investing a minimum of 90% of its NAV into the Target Fund, investors must also take note on specific risks associated with the Target Fund. Investors are advised to consult their professional adviser before investing. Please refer to the Prospectus under "Risk Factors" for further details on risks.
